

Find the mistakes

Cross out the wrong word and write down the sentence correctly.

EXAMPLE

Active	Passive – with mistake(s)	Passive – correct	Type of mistake
She gave Mills a book.	Mills was given a book by she .	Mills was given a book by her .	pronoun

NOW YOU

	Active	Passive – with mistake(s)	Passive – correct	Type of mistake
1	John never catches fish.	Fish are never catched by John.	Fish are never caught by John.	past participle
2	The Queen has opened three universities recently.	Three universities were opened by the Queen recently.	Three universities have been opened by the Queen recently.	tense: present perfect
3	Jill does not watch horror film.	Horror films is not watched by Jill.	Horror films are not watched by Jill.	singular – plural
4	The Myers' bikes are broken. They must repair them.	The bikes must be repaired by they .	The bikes must be repaired by them .	pronoun
5	The parents had sat together with their children. They had helped them with their homework.	Them had been helped .	They had been helped.	pronoun
6	In return, the children showed them how they install an app.	They were shown how an app to be installed .	They were shown how an app is installed .	tense: simple present
7	The bookshop owner has opened a café and a playground.	A café and a playground has been opened .	A café and a playground have been opened .	singular – plural
8	The company is building five new classrooms.	Five new classrooms are built .	Five new classrooms are being built .	tense: present progressive
9	The teachers put the books on the shelves. This is what they always do.	The books were put on the shelves.	The books are put on the shelves.	tense: simple present (context)